

The Concordia University Department of English presents

September Readings and Seminars

Poetry - Writer-in-Residence

Sharon Thesen

Concordia's 1992 Writer-in-Residence will be reading from her work on Friday, September 25 at 8 PM in Hall 459.

Governor-General's Award nominee Sharon Thesen is the author of five books of poetry, including a book-length poem about Malcom Lowry, Confabulations. Her latest collection is The Pangs of Sunday.

"...one of the finest poets ever to come out of this country."
The Toronto Star

Short Story, Memoir, Travel

Nicholas Delbanco

American writer Nicholas Delbanco is the author of fifteen books. His most recent is The Writers' Trade & Other Stories.

"The Writers' Trade is an unsparing and radiant book."
The Chicago Tribune

Seminar on contemporary American fiction:

Monday, September 28 at 3 PM in room 131 of the Administration Building on the Loyola campus.

Reading:

Monday, September 28 at 7:30 PM in the Drummond Library Building, room 200, on the Loyola campus.

Nicholas Delbanco's visit to Concordia is sponsored by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Consulate in Montreal.

Travel, Novel, Historical Fiction

Clark Blaise

Clark Blaise's short stories and novels, from A North American Education to his most recent, Man and his World, explore the fragile borders of autobiography, fiction and essay.

"This is fiction doing what it should be doing."
Alice Munro

Reading and discussion:

Tuesday, September 29 at 4 PM in Hall 433

The Hall Building is at 1455 de Maisonneuve West, on Concordia's downtown campus.

The Drummond Library Building and the Administration Building are at 7141 Sherbrooke West, on Concordia's Loyola campus.

For more information, phone 848-2340

Concordia
UNIVERSITY

REAL EDUCATION FOR THE REAL WORLD